Our Mission Statement ...

First Lutheran Church is God's people inviting, involving equipping and empowering to serve, that all may know Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

FLC Family,

Our mission at First Lutheran Church is a simple statement that reads, “First Lutheran Church is God’s people inviting, involving, equipping, and empowering to serve, that all may know Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.” We need help living this mission.

Inviting, involving, equipping, and empowering to serve are part of the radical welcome we are meant to offer one another as Christians in this place. Whether you have served and worshiped at FLC for 50 years or you are new to this worshiping community you have a role to play. By our loving creator you have been made in Christ’s image and therefore are empowered to, speak and act for and as, Christ in this world.

The person next to you in the pew on Sunday needs you. There are others in your life that need to know you spent some time in the “pew” (physically or electronically) on Sunday. They need to know that time in worship changed you. They need to see how faithful worship compels you to be involved in Christ’s ministry.

You need to know with boldness that your involvement in Christ’s family can evoke curiosity in others. In fact, your spirit of love can invite them in. It can draw them to this faith that comes from knowing Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Think about the faithful people who have witnessed to you. Was it a pastor? A neighbor? The elderly woman who sat in the second to the last pew? Most of us have a particular moment where we felt welcomed into Christ’s family. Usually, it wasn’t because of a big “Come to Jesus” event. It was someone casually inviting or involving us and just like that we found our home in the community.

Bring home to those around you here. Bring home to your neighbors. Show them that home is where Christ is and Christ is all around us. Show them your light. Lately, the best preacher at FLC has been a tiny redhead that hates to wear her shoes. Her comfort level at church is so profound that it makes us joyful, but her comfort empowers others. It is hard not to think that, if a little one such as this can find home so easily among these people of God, just maybe there is welcome here for me too.

Of course, there is welcome for you and when it's not perfect or perfectly clear that you are welcomed, we will work at it. We will find ways to better serve you in love, because that is our mission and our call. All are Welcome. We are attempting to shout it from the floor to the ceiling and that's a Narthex fact.

God's peace,

Pastor Elisabeth

Bible Study

Reading the Book of Isaiah

The 4 Rs – Rebellious? Yes! Repent & Return? Yes!

The 4th R is to come. God sent a message through Isaiah the prophet. Isaiah appealed to the rebellious people to repent & return.

What had happened? Society had broken down with civil unrest, with open violence, with brazen sinfulness, & with a rebellion. A bleak image indeed!

Where is the LIGHT? God's forgiving ACT: A remnant will remain. God's wrath will be followed by His comfort.

The 4th R? A clue is in the lyrics of Handel's "Messiah" that will shed some LIGHT!

Join us Wednesdays at 9:00 am in the Youth Room to help us explore the book of Isaiah.

Book Club

Book Club will next meet on Friday, June 2nd at 1:00 p.m. The book selected for discussion is, "Wish You Were Here", by Jodi Picoult. Please make plans to join us or if the time doesn't work for you and you would like to come, let the office know and we will set a better time. If you are a reader and have read a good book worthy of discussion, let us know that too!

All Are Welcome Here?

with Pastor Jared Howard of Faith, Calumet; Vicar Melissa Salminen, Seminarian; and Pastor Bruce Thorsen of Bethany, Ishpeming Tuesday, May 16 at 7:30 pm ET / 6:30 pm CT

As people of God, we are called to see the divine in everyone we meet but Christians as a group has had a difficult time living into the welcome of all people. While we may say we are welcoming, we often fall short in welcoming those who are different than us because of how they look, who they love, or how they introduce themselves. Using materials from the recent Kaleidoscope Lenten Challenge and materials from Reconciling Works, this workshop will seek to help us extend welcome to our siblings who identify as LGBTQIA+ and take time to learn what these descriptors mean.

Stewardship

I LOVE YOU

“I love you”. Sweeter words were never spoken. Try as I might, most times when my thoughts turn to stewardship the word “love” pushes everything else aside. Love is what being a Christian is all about. In fact, Christ is love.

The ultimate “I love you” came from God when God sent a Savior to us. Love is so foundational to Christianity that it shouldn’t be surprising that, without it, there is no stewardship.

But loving is a tricky thing. Many times, we love the wrong things. Love of money or power or “stuff”- the other gods in our lives, masquerade as necessary “loves” in order for us to be able to do good for others. We are human, after all, and we get sidetracked.

God knows us like a book and loves us, warts and all. God’s love for us is unconditional, undeserved, and limitless. That love overflows and frees us to love back, love ourselves and love our neighbors.

Loving family and close friends are the easier part, especially when we are loved, in return. The really, really tough part is loving your enemies (some would say impossible!). Yet, with God’s help, all things are possible. As we read in Matthew 5:44 “.....love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you,”

Our human nature and sinfulness are on full display when we fall short. Many of us not only withhold our love, but are even hateful toward those who don’t think and act like we think they should. Thank God for the endless grace and forgiveness God showers us with every day.

God is a God of endless chances to do better. We can be better stewards and the Spirit is always there to lean on. No body said it would be easy. Saying, “I love you” many times are words that roll off the tongue fairly easily and, don’t get me wrong, telling someone that you love them is what Jesus wants us to do. SHOWING them that you love them is the fulfillment of God’s love for us.

We need to “walk the walk” and ACT upon our love. Good stewardship is the SHOWING of love by the faithful and generous sharing of our time, abilities, energy and money. Here I go again, preaching to the choir! We are blessed here at First Lutheran with so many good folks who are already wonderful stewards of God’s gifts. Thank you and thanks be to God!!

In Christ,

Dirk Manson, Stewardship Chair

Mental Health Awareness Month

May is Mental Health Awareness Month. This is an important time to help people to become more informed, aware and to understand the concept of mental illness and brain disorders. The local chapter of NAMI – The National Alliance for Mental Illness, Alger-Marquette County – does just that.

Who are they? They are people with loved ones, family members or friends dealing with mental illness.

What are they? They are a grassroots self-help group that provides support for one another, education for the public and themselves, and advocacy for family members or friends dealing with mental illness.

I ask that you would pray for persons who are dealing with mental health issues, also their family members, loved ones and friends. For more information visit www.nami.org.

Thank You,
Pat Casteel

Council Highlights

The Congregational Council met on April 19th with president, Cindy Sjoquist, presiding. At this meeting the council; talked with Eric Husbye about using organic fertilizer, he agreed. Eric also stated he would only spot treat weeds and not treat the entire yard. Pat Casteel and Pam Brown also joined us to discuss the Fortune Lake Camp Growing in Grace effort. Council encourages our congregation to look at the Growing in Grace forum on the Fortune Lake website. The council decided to remove Sam Olsick from the council since he is very busy with school programs. The council also decided to not meet during the months of June and July. The executive board will meet if necessary. We will once again place an ad in the Daily Press Visitors guide. Thank you to Cindy Sjoquist for offering the monetary gift to supply this ad.
